Privacy Policy

Your privacy is important

This privacy policy outlines how Personify Care Pty Ltd ABN 95 601 519 573 and its related bodies corporate and associates (we or us or our) collect, holds, uses and discloses personal information as required by the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act).

Kinds of personal information we collect

We collect and hold personal information about users, patients, health care professionals, customers and potential customers, contractors and other people who come into contact with us (you).

The kinds of personal information we may collect and hold may include your name, address, phone number, e-mail address, geographic location, debit or credit card details and any other information you provide to us when you use our websites (Sites) and application for mobile devices (Application), including which of our pages or other webpages you have visited, as well as how and what you use the Application for. The Sites and the Application will be collectively referred to herein as the Service.

How we collect personal information

We will generally collect personal information about you directly by way of forms and other documents or information you submit to us (whether in paper or electronic form), correspondence you provide to us and telephone calls or meetings with you. We will also collect the information you submit to us through using the Service, such as the information and data that you may enter into the Sites or the Application. We may also collect personal information about you as submitted by your health professionals that are using the Service. However, we will only collect personal information from you after you have chosen to register onto the Service through your healthcare professional and provided us with your consent to collect your information from your healthcare professional.

How we use personal information

We will only use personal information for the following purposes unless otherwise required or permitted by law:

- to provide you with the best possible access to the Service;
- to answer any questions or inquiries you direct to us;
- to allow your health professionals to communicate with you about your care;
- to provide you with marketing materials in relation to offers, specials, products and services we have available from time to time that may be of interest to you;
- to allow you to share health information and other information about you with other Personify Care users that you have already authorised to access such information (e.g. healthcare professionals providing you with health care services) or otherwise in accordance with the settings that you choose for the Service;
- for our internal management purposes, to manage our relationship with you, and to manage the payment and recovery of amounts payable to us by you or an entity related to you (as applicable); and
- for other purposes which are reasonably necessary in connection with our normal functions and activities.

If we are unable to collect personal information relating to you, we may be unable to provide you with the Service or continue our relationship with you.

Disclosure of your personal information

We may disclose personal information to the following kinds of entities for the relevant purposes mentioned above:

- our contractors, consultants, advisers, associates and related entities;
- any industry body, tribunal, court or otherwise in connection with any complaint made by you about us;
- if you have provided us with referees to assist with the assessment of a potential contract between you and us, the referees you have provided; and
- other entities with your consent or as permitted or required by law.

We may disclose the kinds of personal information listed above to overseas countries. As at the date of this privacy policy the recipients are only located in Australia although the countries in which the recipients are located may change over time.

How we hold personal information

We hold personal information in electronic form. We have in place steps to protect the personal information we hold from misuse, interference and loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

Direct marketing communications

From time to time we may use your personal information to provide you with marketing materials in relation to offers, specials, products and services that we have available. If you would not like to receive direct marketing materials from us you may notify us using the contact details set out below.

Cookies

A cookie is a data file that a website transfers to your computer. This enables the website to track the pages you have visited. A cookie only contains information you supply. It cannot read data on your computer. There are many types of cookies that may be used for different purposes. For example, some cookies help a website to remember information about your visit, like your preferred language and other settings while others may identify which pages are being visited or offer security features. Our website uses cookies. You can set your browser to refuse cookies, however, this may mean you are unable to take full advantage of our Service.

How to obtain access to your personal information

You may obtain access to personal information which we hold about you by contacting us using the contact details set out below. When you request copies of your personal information held by us we will endeavour to provide you with such personal information as soon as reasonably practicable.

We may require you to verify your identity and specify what information you require. There may be occasions when access to personal information we hold about you is denied. Such occasions would include where release of the information would have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of others.

Accuracy and completeness of personal information

While we will endeavour to ensure that the personal information collected from you is up to date accurate and complete, we will assume that any personal information provided by you is free from errors and omissions. You may request that we update or vary personal information that we hold about you using the contact details listed below.

How to make a complaint about a breach of your privacy rights by us

If you are of the view we have breached the APPs, the Privacy Act, or any related privacy code in dealing with your personal information, you may make a complaint by writing to us using the contact details below and we will endeavour to respond and provide you with confirmation as to how we propose to deal with the complaint as soon as reasonably practicable.

If you are not satisfied with our response to your complaint, you may make a complaint to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner by visiting the following website and following the steps:

<http://www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/privacy-complaints>.

Anonymity and pseudonyms

You have the option of not identifying yourself or using a pseudonym when dealing with us in relation to privacy matters unless we are required by law or a court/tribunal to deal with individuals who have identified themselves or it is impractical for us to deal with you if you have not identified yourself in the circumstances.

Changes to this privacy policy

We may, from time to time, review and update this privacy policy to take account of new laws and technology, changes to our functions and activities, and to make sure it remains appropriate.
